Abstract

Cisatracurium and vecuronium both conferred the same hemodynamic stability but there was evidence of histamine release with cisatracurium.

We conclude that vecuronium has a clinical onset faster than cisatracurium, better intubating conditions, more sensitivity to the neostigmine and hemodynamic stability with no evidence of histamine release.

Key word : Cisatracurium vecuronium Anaesth.

Acknowledgement

To the name of "Allah" most merciful and most gracious.

I wish to express my deep gratitude to Prof. Dr. Mohamed Hani Kamal, Professor Anaesthesia Faculty of Medicine, Cairo University, for his supervision active support, continuous encouragement and time effort he devoted for supervision of this work.

I would like to thank Prof. Dr. Omar Wagih Abbas, Professor of Anaesthesia, Faculty of Medicine, Cairo University, for his patience, support and great help.

I was fortunate enough to gain help to Dr. Medhat Mohamed Hashem, Lecturer of Anaesthesia, Faculty of Medicine, Cairo University, for his sustained interest and support offered throughout my study.

Finally I would like to express my profound gratitude and love to my wife who stood beside me in every success in my life.
