Acknowledgment

First and above all, I praise God, the almighty for providing me this opportunity and granting me the capability to proceed successfully. This thesis appears in its current form due to the assistance and guidance of several people. I would therefore like to offer my sincere thanks to all of them.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my 1st supervisor Prof. Dr. Ihab Nadeem, professor of economics in the faculty of commerce at Ain Shams University, for the continuous support of my master study and research, for his expertise, motivation, enthusiasm, and his constructive suggestions and for all what I learnt from him throughout my academic years. I could not have imagined having a better advisor for my master study. Simply, he is GOD father.

I would like to thank Prof. Dr. Amr El-Taki, professor of economics and vice dean of Sadat Academy for kindly accepting to participate in the discussion and evaluation of this work, in addition to his precious instructions and his gentle way in advising.

I would like to thank Prof. Dr. Dina Rady, professor of economics in the faculty of commerce at Ain Shams University, for her devotion of time and energy to read and discuss this thesis, which added a great value to the study.

I would like to thank my 2nd supervisor Dr. Eman Hashim, lecturer of economics in the faculty of commerce at Ain Shams University who became more of a mentor and friend, than a professor, in addition to her encouragement, insightful comments, understanding and patience. Her guidance helped me in all the time of research and writing of this thesis.

I would like to thank all the people who contributed in some way to the work described in this thesis.

Last but not least, I warmly thank and appreciate my family for the support they provided me through my entire life and in particular, I must acknowledge my mother and my brother without whose love, encouragement, unyielding support and patience, I would not have finished this thesis.

Mum, no words can tell what you have done and how grateful I am. "Thank You For Everything"
