ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First of all gratitude is due to ALLAH who guides me and gives me strength to execute the first step on path of improving my knowledge through this humble effort.

The author is grateful to Assis. Prof. Dr. M. Arif, Head of Department, Faculty of science-Qena, South Valley University and Prof. Dr. S. N. Waseef, President of Nuclear Materials Authority, Egypt.

The author wishes to express his deep gratitude to Prof. Dr. M. A. Hassan, Ex-President of Nuclear Materials Authority, Dr. S. G. Mawas, Faculty of Science-Qena, South Valley University and Dr. M. A. EL-Tahir, Faculty of Science-Qena, South Valley University for suggesting the problem, supervision, continuous discussion, fruitful advances throughout the progress of the work, and preparing this thesis in the final form.

The author also wishes to express his deepest thanks to Mr. A. H. Rabie, General Director of General Management of Drilling and Core Samples. Special thanks are due to Mr. S. M. Abd Allah, Drilling Management. Thanks are also due to the colleagues in the General Management of Drilling and Core Samples, Nuclear Materials Authority, Egypt.

The author is also greatly indebted to Mr. E. korany, and Mr. A. Soleman for their cooperation. Particular thanks are due to the colleagues of Nuclear Materials Authority of EL-Missikat expedition, Dr. A. Abu Dief, Mr. S. A. Omar, Mr. F. Oraby and Mr. E. A. Abu EL-Hassan

The author is also greatly indebted to Prof. Dr. M. M. Ali, Prof. Dr. M. Y. Attawiya, Prof. Dr. H. A. Hussein and their staff in the Nuclear Materials Authority for their help offered during the laboratory analyses.

Finally, I'm grateful to my wife and to everybody who gave me hand during this study.
