Acknowledgements

First and foremost thanks to Allah, the most Gracious and Merciful

I am really pleased to have the opportunity to be supervised by Dr. Asmaa Ghanem Gheith, Professor of Curriculum and Instruction, Faculty of Education, Ain Shams University. She supported and guided me since the first day I started this study. Thanking her is not enough for being helpful and caring to finish this study as soon as possible. I also owe gratitude to Dr. Hanan Hafez, head of Curriculum and Instruction department, Faculty of Education, Ain Shams University for allowing me to work under her supervision.

Thanks are extended to Mr. Sayed El- Kholy, ex-principle of El-Masria Integrated International School, God bless his soul, for his approval to apply the program in the school. He was totally encouraging. Thanks for his constant support for all my requirements during administrating the program.

All my heartily gratitude goes to my family; my father councilor/ Nabil El-Ganzoury, my mother Prof. Safy Al-Rafay and my brother Dr. Islam El-Ganzoury who never felt hesitated to support me and did not save any effort to push me forward until the work is all done.

Finally, I want to thank every single student who participated in my program and sacrificed their summer vacation to attend all sessions of the program without any complaining.

Title: Developing the Preparatory Stage Pupils' EFL Critical Writing Abilities through a Virtual Reality Environmental Context

Researcher: Bassem Nabil Shawquy El-Ganzoury, teacher at MODLI, Cairo, Egypt

Abstract

The purpose of the present study was to investigate the effectiveness of using virtual reality goggles as a virtual context in developing the preparatory school students' critical writing. Participants of the present study were 30 preparatory school stage students (N=30). The researcher used a pre/posttest to examine the participants' critical writing and a critical writing checklist. A virtual reality goggles program was administered to the participating students in the summer vacation of the school year 2017-2018 at El Masria Integrated International School in 10th of Ramadan city, El Sharqia. Administration lasted for 90 days. Results proved that the program was effective in developing the participating students' critical writing abilities and writing appropriateness as well. Pedagogical implications and recommendations, as well as suggestions for further studies were provided.

Key words: Virtual Reality – Critical writing– Virtual reality goggles.
