Acknowledgment

The first and the everlasting thanks and gratitude is for Allah, the Merciful, the Compassionate.

Initially, it is worth - mentioning that no thesis is solely the production of one person's efforts. This research is no exception. However, to thank by name all those who participated in the accomplishment of this research is a tremendous task that requires special abilities, which honestly I lack. Therefore, I offer apologies to all those who have not^{been} mentioned by name (but deserve all recognition I can give). To all my sincerest thanks for helping me to achieve this work.

Not enough words can be said for the contributions of Prof. Dr. Naima M.Eid, my thesis adviser. She has a highly intellectual mind. To me, she has been a thesis adviser, without whose profound patience, this thesis could have never been completed. To her, I offer my deepest gratitude.

Working under the supervision and directions of the Prof. Dr. Ali Hussein, the other adviser, it has been a great privilege to me, and this will always remain a rich source of pride in my future life. I am sincerely grateful for his continuous supportive guidance and inspiration throughout the whole research.

I wish to extend my thanks to the jury members, whose valuable comments helped the researcher to judge the questionnaires & criteria.

To Prof. Dr. Saad Diab Kandil, head of the department of curriculum & methods of teaching, Institute of Studies and Educational Research, Cairo University, I owe a great deal, since he did not spare any effort with respect to the general structure of the present work or the needed amendments.

To Prof. Dr. Abdu. Alrahman Mohammed Gaber, I sincerely thank him for accepting to participate in the discussion of the present study.

The researcher cannot forget to thank the Libyan people who offered me this opportunity to pursue my studies during these hard times, nor can he forget to thank the Egyptian people for their hospitality.

The Libyan Arab bureau in Cairo represented in the cultural & financial chancellors deserve the researcher's thanks for their undeniable efforts.

Special thanks are due to my mother, wife, children and all my family, without whose prayings, patience, encouragement and undeniable sacrifices, the completion of this research would be impossible.

The researcher cannot forget to thank all those who came today to attend the discussion of this research .

Finally, the researcher admits that if he fulfills the requirements of the scientific research, it is a direct result of his supervisors' guidance, if not the responsibility is mine .
